

Daniel A. Cohn

Senior Vice President & National Sales Manager

B.R. Cohn Winery

Daniel Cohn, the eldest of Bruce Cohn's four children, became involved in the family business at an early age. His lifelong appreciation of Northern California's abundant food and wine offerings provided him with the ideal foundation to bring the family's successful Sonoma Valley operation to new markets all across the country. Although still a young man, Dan brings years of experience in the ultra-premium wine industry to his role as B.R. Cohn's Senior Vice President and National Sales Manager.

In 2005, upon his appointment to his current position at B.R. Cohn Winery, Dan moved from his childhood home town of Glen Ellen to Florida. Previously Cohn served as Eastern Regional Sales Manager for the family business, successfully driving sales, awareness and consumer demand for B.R. Cohn's exceptional wines. He has been a tremendous asset to the winery and has played an integral part in increasing B.R. Cohn Winery's visibility throughout the nation.

The beneficiary of his father's wine, business and marketing teachings throughout his childhood, Dan officially joined the family business in 1993, working closely with the product development team for the B.R. Cohn Olive Oil Company and implementing sales and marketing initiatives. He also enjoyed his first foray into the luxury wine market with a successful three-year sales career at Young's Market in the late 1990's where Dan earned the "Sales Representative of the Year" award for two consecutive years once in the chain division and once in the broad market division.

Dan Cohn currently resides near Baltimore, Maryland with his wife and infant daughter. He continues to oversee the family business and drive wine sales in the Southeast.
